

Court appointed guardian's consent form

The guardian should consider the following when signing the consent form. Hoas does not provide dorm type housing, where we could monitor the tenants. We cannot make special arrangements for a person in need of guardianship. In order to live independently, the tenant must be able to take care of himself/herself. It is the responsibility of the tenant to stay in control. In the case of a joint responsibility agreement (family and friend apartments), the guardian is liable for the tenancy related responsibilities of the entire apartment just the same as the tenant would be.

By signing this form the guardian grants their consent to the person mentioned below, under their guardianship, to sign a tenancy agreement with Hoas. By signing the tenancy agreement the tenant agrees to follow its terms and conditions, which define the rights and obligations of both the tenant and the lessor.
